Our organization creates digital content to address the collateral consequences of mass incarceration. Specifically, we create:

- Self-directed courses to help people in jails and prisons prepare for employment,
- Live-work assignments to provide formerly incarcerated people with income opportunities.
- Daily content to help taxpayers understand why mass incarceration results in one of the greatest social injustices of our time—and how we can improve outcomes for people.
- Grants and financial support to assist people in prison, formerly incarcerated people, and other nonprofit organizations that align with our mission.

If you have any questions or comments about the donation, please contact me directly on my personal cell, at 415-419-1728 or via email: Michael@PrisonProfessors.org.
